SOIL ELECTION CARRIED WITH BIG MAJORITY

321 For and 37 Against Is Vote Cast in Election Held on Last Saturday

INTEREST IS LIGHT

Commissioners Will Seek Aid in Setting Up New District—Listing Money Received

The election to create a wind erosion control district in Randall county held Saturday was carried by a vote of 321 to 37.

Little interest was taken in the election in any of the boxes. In Canyon the vote was 145 to 25, while in South Amarillo the only persons to vote were the four election judges.

The Commissioners Court canvassed the returns Monday. It was recommended to the court by the conservation district officials in Amarillo that members of the court make a trip to Dumas in order to get the necessary information regarding setting up the district. Moore county is said to have the best plan of any of the nine counties which have formed wind erosion districts. The commissioners are advised that mistakes will be avoided in getting the plan under operation if Moore county is used as a pattern.

According to members of the court, it will take some time to get all the details worked out and set up the necessary machinery to make the bill effective.

Applications for listing money were taken Friday, and since that time no farmer has requested this fund. Checks are being mailed from the RA office in Amarillo direct to the farmers so that no check can be made as to the number of checks which have been distributed to the farmers of the county. Many farmers have been listing this week with the money which was received through this government agency.

Herman Wragge Died Friday, With Funeral Held Sun.

Herman Wragge, 63, died Friday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Paul Fluegel, at the family home north of Canyon. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at the Lutheran Church, with interment in the Lutheran Cemetery.

Mr. Wragge has been a resident of Randall County for nearly 30 years. He was a carpenter for several years, later establishing the Wragge Park north of Canyon which he operated as a pleasure resort.

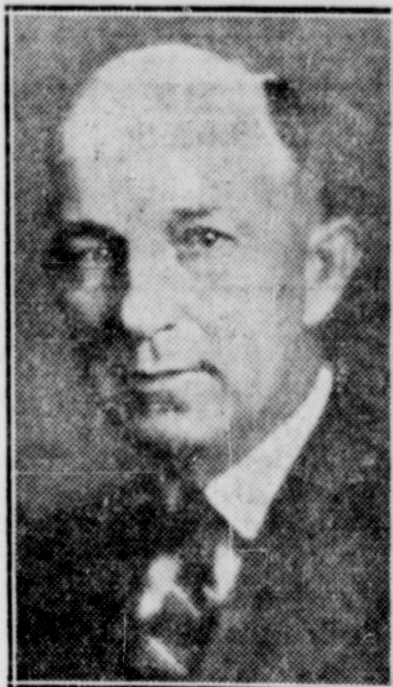

Mr. Wragge was a native of Germany, coming to this country about 35 years ago. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Fluegel and Mrs. Herman Both, of Randall county, and another sister in Germany.

OLD CHARLIE McAFEE SERIOUSLY OBJECTS

Old Tack says: My candidate for the youngest looking man in Randall County is Clyde Warwick. He's 51 but he doesn't look a day over 40.

Thanks, Tack, but Old Charlie McAfee, Amarillo business man who lives in Randall county, objects most strenuously. When the Newsman came to Randall County nearly 26 years ago, Old Charlie was old, worn out and decrepit. While only 6 or 7 years older than the Newsman, Mac now claims to look fully 20 years the junior. Funny thing what a lot of liars there are in these Rotary clubs. Tuesday night Old Mac put the proposition up to Canyon and Amarillo Rotarians. Every Canyon Rotarian voted that Mac looked younger than the Newsman, while the Amarillo Rotarians voted solidly for the Canyon representative in this "young looking contest."

Sen. Clint Small Announces Re-Election From 31st District

H. M. Bainer Says Wheat Outlook Is Good In Panhandle

H. M. Bainer, agricultural agent for the Santa Fe, was here Thursday. He was recently recalled to the Santa Fe service after having been out for several years operating a large farm in Missouri.

Mr. Bainer states that he has visited every county in this division of the Santa Fe several times in recent weeks. His job is to keep a close check up on the wheat situation.

He states that the wheat is in good shape in practically every section of the Panhandle, and warm weather will soon cause sufficient growth to cover the ground. There are only three places in the Panhandle where the land is blowing badly, although Southern Colorado and Western Kansas are still blowing rather badly this year.

Mr. Bainer is hoping for early moisture which will do much to develop the wheat that is now doing so well.

Crowds Pick Up at Park Following Bad Weather

204 cars entered the Palo Duro State Park last week as the result of the first open weather for several weeks. The attendance has been very light since December owing to the continued bad weather, especially on the week-ends.

Work is progressing in a very satisfactory manner on all of the projects at the Palo Duro, states William Anderson, superintendent.

Bedding for the four completed cabins is expected this week, and when this is placed it is expected that all of the cabins will be in use much of the time during the spring. All of the cabins have been rented for six weeks starting June 1st when the Art School will be conducted by Miss Isabel Robinson, head of the Art Department of W. T.

PRaises Palo Duro

Rev. E. C. McKenzie of Pampa was here Thursday with a group of friends to spend the day at the Palo Duro State Park. Rev. McKenzie was formerly pastor of the Church of Christ in Canyon until called to the church in Pampa.

Miss Evelyn Boyce returned this week from a visit with relatives in Oklahoma.

P.T.A. Will Use Proceeds to Buy More Uniforms for the Band in Canyon School

It's coming. You want to be present.

March 17 the well-known Cal Farley will be here with his famed Flying Dutchman Circus of 17 members in the high school auditorium sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of Canyon High School.

This is Cal Farley's first appearance at Canyon High School with his circus, although he has given programs in many Panhandle towns. Music, jokes, wrestling bouts arranged by the mighty Dutch Mantell, and many other attractions will fill out this two and one-half hour program of novel entertainment.

Cal Farley is known not only for his Flying Dutchman Circus and his wrestling ability, but his radio announcing of wrestling matches. You have heard him, so don't miss your chance to see Cal Farley in his favorite role, an excited, enthusiastic, tossel-headed announcer.

The proceeds of this program will be used to buy more uniforms for the Canyon Public School Band. At present the band has only half enough uniforms for its 43 members. The band is progressing rapidly, and by next year it will be a well-advanced band of which Canyon will be proud.

Don't fail to buy your ticket to this evening of unusual entertainment. Tickets are being sold by band members, mothers of band members, and mothers in the P. T. A.

C. A. Higdon Ends Many Years Work With Horse Dray

Truck Replaces Delivery Wagon—Has Unique Record in Running a Hack in Canyon

The one-horse delivery wagon of C. A. Higdon made its last trip Saturday evening, after several years' service to the people of Canyon, delivering freight and express. A delivery truck was put into service Monday, succeeding the horse drawn light wagon.

C. A. Higdon is a veteran bus and dray man in Canyon. He started in 1919 with a two-horse drawn hack which met all of the trains. Regardless of the kind of weather, passengers could always depend upon Mr. Higdon being there to meet the train, regardless of the time of arrival. He always got those to the outgoing trains who wished this service.

Mr. Higdon continued in this work for seven years, until the automobiles crowded out the use of the horse-drawn hack. It was said by many traveling men that Mr. Higdon's outfit was the last horse-drawn hack used in West Texas. After this Mr. Higdon went into the dray and delivery business, using the two horses which had drawn the hack so faithfully to the depot. This business was continued for 10 years. About 18 months ago one of the horses was given away, since the paved streets made it possible for one horse to pull the light dray wagon.

Ralph Higdon, son of C. A., will operate the truck and will continue looking after the freight and dray business. Mr. Higdon will continue using the horse in plowing gardens and other kinds of work in town, and will assist Ralph when there is a heavy run of business.

He was formerly District Attorney and Judge Advocate of the Department of Texas for the American Legion. In submitting his candidacy, Mr. Douglass stated:

"The principal problem will be to state our problems, get away from fence-riding, bring the issues out into the open and, for better or for worse, give the people a real chance to decide with their ballots. At the proper, and in due time, I will endeavor to state as specifically as possible my views on every question confronting the (Continued on last page)

PLANS COMPLETE

Loud Speakers Will Provide Means for All to Hear Talks—Groups to Hold Sessions

All roads will lead to Canyon Friday and Saturday for the two-day meeting of the Northwest Texas Conference for Education held here March 6 and 7.

Eminent speakers representing many different educational institutions of the state and nation will be heard on the program. Foremost among these speakers are Dr. Willard W. Beatty, United States Director of Indian Education; Dr. Frank W. Hart of the University of California at Berkeley; Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological College, Lubbock; President J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Teachers College, and Dr. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Two loud speakers have been installed in the auditorium of the Education building so that every one of the expected 3,000 visitors may comfortably listen to the lectures. Arrangements have been made with leading cafes in town, and the college cafeteria to serve luncheon promptly to the crowd. The housing committee also has made arrangements so that all who come will be provided with desirable rooms for the night.

The first General Session of the program opens at 9:00 a. m. Friday. At this session Dr. Beatty will deliver his first address, "Will Teachers Give Up Their Right to Teach Without a Fight?"

Special section meetings will be held Friday afternoon for county board members and county superintendents, high school and elementary school people, and for those interested in the latest trends in agriculture and home economics.

A special feature of the conference program will be a chorus of 250 high school boys and girls who will give a short Texas Centennial program.

Another feature of the Conference program will be a trip over the Goodnight Trail and scenic highway through Palo Duro State Park.

Driver's License Applications Are Slow Last Week

Only 440 Drivers' Licenses were issued last week at the office of R. N. Barnett at the Court house according to the applications on file there. This makes a total of 1217 Licenses that have been issued during the first two weeks. It is urgent that those desiring the driver's license to get them before the final rush begins for the new 1936 car license plates. The final date on these is April 1.

WOULD STICK CANDIDATE WITH ALL SORTS JUNK

Candidates are having a hard time these days eluding the peddlers who have junk to sell. Each gadget "insures election" to those whom the solicitor seeks as a victim.

Magazines, political newspapers, booklets, programs, folders are being printed to get the candidate's money. The advertising in this sort of publication is not worth a thin dime. They have no circulation. They are not intended to help the candidates, but to fill the pockets of the promoters with easy money.

Candidates should stay with the home newspaper in advertising. The newspaper goes into the homes as a welcome guest. It is read by all members of the family.

Entered at the postoffice at Canyon, Texas, as second class matter. Published weekly at office, 1513 Fourth Avenue, Canyon, Texas.

Senator Clint C. Small has announced for re-election to the office of State Senator, 31st district. The News has made many complimentary statements regarding Senator Small during the eight years he has served in the senate. The records will show that no man has ever written so much sound legislation on the statutes of Texas as has the Panhandle Senator. His two campaigns for Governor has given him an unusual insight into the needs of the entire state. Governors Moody, Sterling, Ferguson, and Allred, under whom he has served in the Senate have all looked to him for sound constructive advice on the knotty problems which have confronted them. All of them have freely conferred with him over the measures which they wished to have passed. That he has worked for the benefits of his district, no one denies. The great weakness of the legislative system is that as soon as a man proves his worth, some one decides they can do the job better. While this is not so true of the Senate as it is of the House, yet the legislators are changed too frequently for the good of the state. When the state finds a good hand, he should be retained; the poor ones cannot be fired too quickly for the good of all. It is not likely that the people of the district will forget the splendid services which Senator Small has rendered. Without any criticism directed to any man who seeks the honor of being Senator, it would be a vivid stretch of the imagination to feature how any person could serve this section more efficiently than has Senator Small. He should be re-elected so long as he is willing to accept the job.

A well known citizen of the Southwest has just returned from two weeks spent in the East, visiting New York and the manufacturing centers of Massachusetts. His report on politics is interesting. First, it looks like Governor Landon of Kansas will be the Republican nominee. While Hoover and others are doing a lot of talking about the nomination, none of them would accept it as they realize the Republicans will be slaughtered at the polls this fall. They hate to sacrifice as good a man as Landon, so may inject a dark horse, unless perchance there is a sufficient element in the Republican party who hope to remove Landon through the process of sacrificing. Second, even the Republicans are consoled to the idea of the re-election of Roosevelt. They have made much more noise than their feelings justify. They realize how Roosevelt has saved the day, but would not like to see retrenchment and economy followed, as the President has promised, in order to hold down national expenditures. In other words, the election is practically over, lacking only the vote counting. Such an attitude may be good politics, but it is a most dangerous attitude. When people feel that an election is won it is just the time when something may go wrong. The public mind is often very fickle even when a strong popular candidate is concerned.

Those in the United States who think they are about to be ruined by high taxes should take a look at the high taxes of all European nations. They will be convinced that the tax bill of this nation is a very, very small affair. Some are want to point to the British Empire with its balanced budget, yet the budget takes no account of the billions which are due the United States. Balanced budgets are fine, but when the balancing is done by forgetting huge sums of money that the nation owes, the result amounts to little. Furthermore, a large part of the debt of this nation is due to the people of this nation for money borrowed to save the nation from chaos. The Liberty Leaguers, who were doing the loudest howling three years ago for the nation to be saved, are now howling the loudest that President Roosevelt accomplished the job.

Governor Hoffman has set himself up as judge, jury, and defending attorney. In his eyes no prosecuting attorney should be employed for Hauptmann. While the Hauptmann trial was too much of a theatrical performance, every appellate court in the land has passed upon the evidence and granted that the kidnapper received a fair trial. The Governor of New Jersey would destroy all the evidence presented, and try the case to suit himself.

It is now complained that the dust bowl has been over advertised. The News can hardly agree with this statement. Twenty-five years ago when we hit the Panhandle it was considered a crime to mention anything in the papers which was unfavorable to this country. It was not long until it was discovered that people want the truth, and the truth does not hurt half so much as putting out falsehoods which were soon discovered.

Railroad rates over the nation will be reduced to 2 cents per mile on June 2nd. Western roads have tried the low rates and like them. Eastern roads fought the reduction. The railroads lost most of their business because they were unwilling to reduce rates to compete with the busses and trucks. They should be willing to give the lower rates a trial before making too much of a protest.

Picture of T. D. Hobart Is Given P.P.H.S. Museum

An enlarged photograph of the late T. D. Hobart has been presented to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum by Mrs. T. D. Hobart of Pampa. The photograph will be placed in Pioneer Hall with those of other Panhandle history makers.

No man contributed more to the development of West Texas during the past half century than did T. D. Hobart, who came to the Panhandle in 1886 as an agent for the New York and Texas Land Company, Ltd., to take charge of the disposition of more than five million acres of Panhandle land.

Hobart was one of the founders of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, having been for four years its president, during which time the museum building was constructed, and "no man," says L. F. Sheffy, secretary to the Historical Society, "contributed more of his time, money, and energy to the promotion of the Society and the Museum."

Mr. Hobart was a true West Texan from the time he came here to his death. Once when on a visit to Mrs. Hobart in Michigan before their marriage, he was asked by a cousin if he didn't feel in dread of his life when he went out among the terrible cowboys, he replied, "Cousin, I feel a great deal safer with them than I do here in your city of Manistee."

He not only felt safe here himself, but he helped make it possible for others who came to feel

Among the speakers at the dedication were: Ex-Governor T. M. Campbell, President R. B. Cousins, W. A. Palmer of Canadian, Judge J. N. Browning, Tom Turner of Amarillo, W. S. Sutton of the University of Texas.

Carey Quint Cops Regional Honors From Pampa Team

Presenting a shifty zone defense and a duet of sharp-shooting forwards, the Cardinals of Carey defeated the Pampa Harvesters in the final round of the Regional Tournament Saturday, 32-26 to represent this region in the State High School meet next week at Austin.

"Stop Faust and you've stopped Carey," seemed to be the Harvester cry as the Pampans took the floor before the last game. Roy Lee Jones, regional guard, executed a proficient job in limiting the Cardinal ace to seven points, but Faust's running-mate, Redwine, gathered the bouquet as he pounded the bucket for nine points to grab the scoring honors. Carey's foul shot ability was also instrumental in their win—collecting 14 out of 21 from the gratis line. Pampa entered the grand finale by noosing out Friona 41-20 in the opening tilt, lost to Carey 25-18, and barely outpointed Friona 33-32 in a semi-final contest. Carey was admitted to the races by virtue of impressive wins over Abertathy 50-39 and Pampa 25-18.

The all-regional team as selected by officials, sport writers, and score-keepers included: Houpt, Abertathy, center; Faust, Carey, and Green, Pampa, forwards; Gower, Friona, and Jones, Pampa, guards.

Elevator Becomes Giant Ice Cube

When a Detroit grain elevator burned with the temperature at 10 below zero, water from the fire hose froze as soon as it hit the building. Firemen are shown here attempting to halt progress of the blaze. Handicapped by the extreme cold, they met little success. Loss amounted to $100,000.

an unusually rich fossil bed.

After only two days work, Stuart Johnston, head of the archaeology department of the West Texas State Teachers College, and his assistant, Don Savage, were able to bring in two car loads of material to be prepared for display in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society museum at Canyon.

A giant ground sloth, an unusually large wolf, a camel, the remains of horses as large as the modern horse are among the uncovered fossils.

Mr. Johnston says that these fossils are of the Pleistocene age and are at least a million years old. He expects to find a complete horse's skeleton very similar to the modern horse.

The men are very enthusiastic about their work at Rock Creek and arrangements are being made to bring them in soon to see the museum and to see how the material which they discover and dig up is prepared for display.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Soil Conservation Program Slowed by Mass of Details

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON—Congress has enacted a broad soil conservation program to replace the AAA—a program so enormous, in fact, that it cannot be set in motion to aid any of the country's 6,000,000 farmers during the current crop year.

The best that can be hoped for, farm leaders agree, is to have the new program working soundly within a year. Transforming farm relief into soil conservation involving hundreds of millions of acres is a task even more gigantic than that of launching the AAA.

So cotton planting has already begun in the south, the corn belt will begin to plant soon, and other crops will follow while Secretary Wallace and Administrator Chester Davis take up their new task.

Appraisals Must Be Made

WALLACE and Davis will start with the National Resources Board's survey, which revealed that 25,000,000 to 35,000,000 acres have been ruined for farm purposes by erosion, about 100,000,000 acres are moving rapidly in that direction, more than 100,000,000 additional are beginning to erode badly, and most of the remaining 300,000,000 acres are tending to decline in productivity.

Next, a farm-by-farm appraisal must be made to lay down uniform and equitable standards. The task is complicated by the fact that the program covers all types of farming, and that it is entirely voluntary.

An Example Is Cited

LET us assume, however, a farmer accepts the program. He has 100 acres—70 in cotton, 10 in sorghums, 10 in corn and 10 in soil-improving or soil-conserving crops.

A local appraisal committee will decide whether he should have 50 or 60 acres in soil-improving crops, depending on soil condition, national crop production and good farm management.

And if he is told to retire some of his cotton acreage in the interests of soil conservation, he will be paid so much per cotton-acre retired and perhaps a small sum per acre for reseeded of land already in crops.

Going a step further, he may be told what he might sell and might not sell, as some soil crops must be plowed under if the soil is to be improved by conservation.

Soil Improvement Foreseen

THE outstanding difference of this program from the AAA, therefore, will be its payments for "erosion control" instead of for "crop control."

Net result will be improvement of the soil by planting crops which draw nitrogen (plant food) from the air into the soil. "Cover" crops to be planted will consist of beans, grass, soy beans, clover, cow peas, alfalfa, field peas, and bush clover.

Hardly more than a dent can be made on the first year's program, however, because the appropriation is limited to $500,000,000. Unofficial estimates are that probably 30,000,000 acres will be affected at the outset.

Whether $250 an acre, or $250 an acre, will be paid to retire lands for soil conservation is anybody's guess.

Response Is In Doubt

FEWER than 3,000,000 farmers participated in the AAA. Theoretically 6,000,000 are eligible for the new program, but farm experts concede that unless the rewards for soil conservation are high enough, comparatively few thousand may care to participate.

In the meantime, there is nothing these farmers can decide about the program, because the mass of detail embracing it will not be available for many weeks, perhaps months.

Good Attendance At Meat Canning Demonstration

The meat canning school held in the furniture department of the Thompson Hardware Company, Monday and Tuesday of this week was quite successful in every respect according to those in charge of arrangements.

The demonstration was in charge of Mrs. John Bess Fancher of the Educational Department of the Ball Brothers Company. Foods canned during the two day school were pork, beef, sausage, chili, chicken and boned rib roast.

The following menus were suggested for using the home canned meats and vegetables:

Creamed liver on toast; buttered cabbage; hot spiced beets; potato salad.

American beef stew with vegetables (potatoes, carrots, onions); spinach; canned fruit salad.

Tomato juice; browned chicken fricasee; tiny new potatoes, diced; summer squash on toast; pear and ginger salad.

Demonstration School Gives Play Show Class Work

Third grade children of the Demonstration School gave a short play at the chapel hour at the college Tuesday morning. This play was a culmination of their unit of work on sheep and wool.

The children made two trips in connection with the unit, one to the home of Lynn Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Paul of Canyon where they saw a ewe and her twin lambs. The other visit was made to the Nance Sheep Ranch southeast of Canyon where the children, many of them for the first time, saw with their own eyes real sheep in large herds, which made real to them things they have learned about sheep through extensive reading in their class.

The whole unit of work was planned by the observers and student teachers of the third grade under the supervision of their critic teacher, Mrs. Laura Saunders.

Every child in the third grade had a part in the play, which was written by the children themselves.

Dr. R. P. Jarrett had his tonsils removed yesterday. He has been sick for several weeks, but was able to be up the past two weeks.

Theology Student Looms as Heavyweight Threat After Trimming Levinsky; California Fans Think He May Be the Lad to Take Louis

BY PHILIP MARTIN

JACK DEMPSEY and other seekers-after-white-hopes can stop threshing the shrubs for a fighter to whip Joe Louis—at least until they see how close young Phil Brubaker can come to doing the job.

Brubaker's four-punch kayo of Fred Lenhart, tough west coast battler, followed by a slashing 10-round decision over Kingfish Levinsky, would seem to qualify him for the role of "Palefaced Aspirant No. 1."

From theology student to heavyweight challenger is the strange road traveled by the 21-year-old resident of Dinuba, Calif. And funny-like, he admits that it wasn't sheer love of strife that made him a puss-pounder; he's in the ring wars to pile up a tidy fortune, set himself up in business, and make religious work his avocation.

But to return to Brubaker, the pugilist. He made his amateur ring debut as a sophomore at Dinuba High School. His favorite sports then, however, were track and basketball. He liked football, too, but injuries kept him off the gridiron.

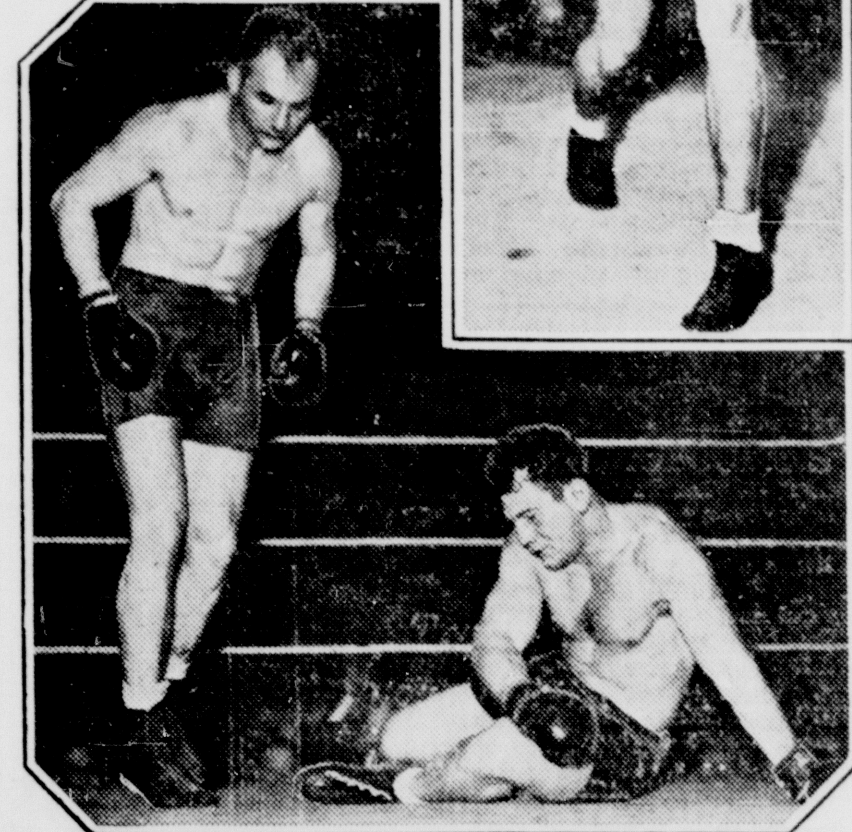

Brubaker's interest in theology—along with his athletic abilities—won a tuition scholarship at College of the Pacific, Stockton, Calif. He forfeited this award, however, to become, at 18, a professional fighter.

As Phil moved through the second raters and into more select circles of fistiana under the management of Billy Hunnefeld, his time became so completely absorbed by ring activities that he was forced to quit studying for the ministry.

HAND trouble—Brubaker's slumber-producers are small and had been broken several times—stood in the way of his success. So the Dinuba lad had doctors re-break and operate on the ailing members.

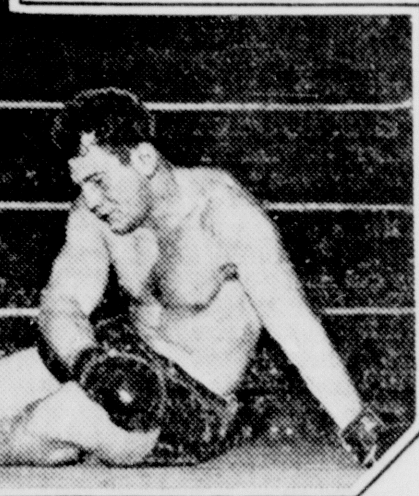

This necessitated a nine-month vacation from fighting, but Brubaker believes he now is equipped with a pair of hands that will bring him the heavyweight crown. The newcomer packs a deadly poke in each duke, and gets about with plenty of speed, for all his 6 feet 1 1/2 inches and 192 pounds. He is smart—more than can be said for most of the present campaigners.

Can he take it? Well, in a brush with K. O. Paxton, a Negro, Brubaker got up off the canvas in the first round to bang out a decision. In 18 scuffles as a pro he has refrigerated 11 victims, won four nods, gotten two draws, and dropped one decision. Although he carries the fight and doesn't backpedal, young Phil excels on defense and footwork.

Brubaker's ring tactics already have captured the fancy of Pacific coast customers, and they say the rest of the country will be eyeing this boy plenty within a very few months.

WEE VOICE OF GRATITUDE

"Splendid Co-operation," was the sentiment of the Senior Class after the "Turn Out" for Amature night last Tuesday night.

Each amateur and business man that participated in making Amature night a success is certainly to be commended.

The seniors were backed from every angle by adults and students in making the performance one of the best that has been given at Canyon High School.

WERE YOU INVITED?

Did you ever go any place and feel that you were not wanted?

The dressing room was made for girls taking part in sports, and not for you to entertain your friends and yourself during the odd moments of the day. You would not want to entertain your friends in the dressing room of your home. Is this not the same proposition when you gather in the dressing room at school? When the dressing room was completed, it was made plain what it was to be used for. The dressing room was designated to be used by girls participating in sports and sports alone. You are not wanted in there, and after all why should you shut yourself in such a stuffy, stale room where you are suspected of taking property belonging to basketball girls?

THE WORLD AT LARGE (?)

What do you know about the world? That is the question that harts the Canyon High School student, when it falls from the teacher's lips. Of course silence will reign in the room, because the student knows nothing on this line.

Oh, sure, the teachers have the students bettered in this argument, because almost every room has a bulletin board covered with current news, and the library is stocked with several of the best-known newspapers and magazines.

The only answer that a student can give is, "I'm too busy; why don't the teachers take a vacation from monotonous studies and try a plan of newspaper study?"

Armeta Kirkpatrick visited the Eagle's Tale room Monday afternoon.

P.T.A. Study Club
Hears McClanahan
Discuss Guidance

"The guidance function recognizes the individual differences, and without guidance it will be impossible to attain the democratic school," said Miss Gladys McClanahan, fourth grade teacher, in her discussion of "Educational and Vocational Guidance," at the Parent-Teachers Association Study Club last Thursday, when it met in the music room of the Canyon Grade School building.

Miss McClanahan said in part, "Because selection of a curriculum or a subject of specialization now became equivalent to designating one's occupational plans, if only temporary, this is the point where guidance became vocational."

Need Variety of Changes
"The recent flood of youth into school grades at the secondary level would call for a variety of fundamental changes not required in the more selective institutions of an earlier day. Of these the guidance program is only one but a very important one. The changing curriculum appeared first. New types of organizations—junior high schools and junior colleges came in to do their share. Others are the extra-curriculum activities, and individualized methods and directed study. Guidance bears important relationships to each of these, helping each other to play its part in the modern school."

She added, "The old schools have little interest in the unsuccessful student, but our present schools are and must be concerned with all, successful or unsuccessful."

Guidance Is Only Portion
In concluding, Miss McClanahan said, "Guidance in relation to vocation is only one portion of the whole program; however, an important one."

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. D. A. Nicholas. She announced that the next meeting would be in March.

At the opening of the meeting Mrs. Alfred Bellah gave a talk on the work of the P. T. A.

COLOR PICTURES MARK
COM. ART PROGRESS

Beautiful color pictures mark the progress of Coach Jones' Art Class in its present unit of work.

The members have completed separately crayola and water color units and now are combining them in perspective views. Realistic shrubbery, trees, and landscapes in general blend with the modernistic and authentic houses forming a scene which is a credit to the artists.

This unit completes one of the more advanced types of artistry.

Carruth Tells Of
Supt. Convention

Last week the city of St. Louis and the Department of Superintendence were host to one of the largest groups of educators ever assembled in this country. Trains, automobiles and airplanes converged upon the city bringing thousands of passengers from every part of the nation. These people had assembled for the purpose of discussing the serious problems of education, seeking to find the path through which American Education must pass if it is to fulfill the mission purposed by the founders of our country.

The meeting was an inspiration from beginning to end. A galaxy of prominent educators presented the case of education from the standpoint of the schools, the public and the State. Most of the discussions were brilliant and were ably done. They were presented with earnestness and fervor.

Timely Problems Dissected
Social, economic, political, religious and various other problems were dissected from the warp and woof of educational practice and held before the searchlight of present-day needs. Inadequacies were found and many practical and philosophical suggestions were made for their improvement.

The general theme of the convention was "The Functioning of the Schools in the Democracy." This issue has been before the schools of America for years but the trend of its practice has become more problematical as contemporary society has changed about us.

What Shall We Teach
It is generally conceded that the schools are established and maintained for the perpetuation of the existing society. But what is our society today? What group within the society is to determine its policies? Shall it be the conservatives, the radicals, or the New Dealers? Shall the schools teach the doctrines of the old established order grounded in wealth and custom or shall they teach the newer social philosophy that economic security and happiness is the inherent right of every man? These, and many, many more questions arise to vex the thinking of the present day educator. Hundreds of speeches and addresses were given at St. Louis on this general theme.

One of the most interesting programs presented was on Tuesday night, when a "Symposium on Current National Issues," was held. Addresses were made by Honorable Norman Thomas, Honorable Henry J. Allen, and Honorable Allen W. Barkley, representing the case of the Socialist, Republican and Democratic parties respectively.

Highlights of Convention

A few of the highlights of the Convention were the following: An address, "Foundations of the National Being"—Glenn Frank, President of the University of Wisconsin; Chorus of 500 negro voices, singing heart songs of long ago; "America Speaks," a radio program presented by the National Broadcasting Company; "Education for Democracy," address by J. W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education; Address on "Federal Support of Public Education," by Dr. Judd, University of Chicago, Dr. Mort of Columbia University, and Dr. Coffman, President of University of Minnesota; "The Scholar in an Age of Conflicts," Charles A. Beard, historian.

Spanish II Gives
Program Feb. 26

Mexico was the theme of the assembly program Feb. 26. Mr. S. B. Orton showed colored slides of scenes in Mexico. The pictures included such scenes as the Pyramid of the Sun, oxen and carts, adobe huts, El Castillo, the nunnery, Golden Mask from Mayas, and an aztec calendar. In concluding their study of farm life, the members of the first grade under Mrs. T. W. Collins gave a program to their parents and friends.

A picture show of farm animals, machinery, buildings, and haystacks was shown while the children explained the pictures. The group of children sang the following farm songs: "On the Way to School," "Six Little Kittens," "Black Pony," "I Sell Butter I Sell Cheese," "Six Little Ducks," and "I Would Like to be a Farmer."

Spelling books in the form of animals and a miniature farm made by the class were displayed.

Spring is here; baseball has started on the playgrounds. The teachers have come out of the building to absorb some of the sunshine of this fair weather we have been enjoying. Miss Mattie Jordan spent the week-end at home in Tulia.

Pauline Moore went to Dawn at her home over the week-end.

W. T. Boxers Lose To Roswell Cadets In Tournament

In winning six bouts to the Buffs' two, the N. M. M. I. Cadets repeated as the champions of their invitation Golden Gloves tournament at Roswell, N. M., Saturday. All seven Canyon candidates sustained the preliminaries to enter the finals. The winner of each bout was presented with a pair of golden gloves, and the runner-up received a pair of silver gloves.

The feature engagement of the entire meet was "Sugar" Cain's meeting with the "Bounding Basque," Cadet Julio Chiaramonte, champion of the Southwestern district in the 165 lbs. class. Chiaramonte made good his boast by winning with a technical knockout at the end of the first round when he drove a damaging right to Cain's solar plexus after the gong had sounded. Cain claimed the blow was not a foul, but was unable to continue. He was given a tremendous ovation as he left the ring for his plucky exhibition against the Cadet pride.

"Bugarmen" Bruggeman to a pulp for a technical knockout in the heavyweight class. Coach Woodbury of the Cadets checked the slaughter by tossing in the towel. West Texas' other win was Wendell Cain's close decision over Roberts in the 115 lb. class. By virtue of his powerful but risky haymakers, Cain was awarded the first two rounds.

Cadet Penn, fighting skillfully and mechanically, ousted Slack by a decision in the 175 pound battle. Malcolm, 155 pound ace of the Cadets, defeated Darr of W. T. by a technical knockout when Darr failed to return for service in the final canto.

Ray Cox was the pre-tourney favorite to cop his match, but he wilted before the long left-hand slashes of Humphries, and lost by a decision. In making his debut as a Canyon boxer, Bailey battled gamely in the 125 lb. class, but lost by a close decision to Cadet Johnson.

"To the people of the 47th Judicial District of Texas: "Since the election of Grady Hazlewood as district attorney, I have had the honor and privilege of serving as his assistant, during which time it has been my pleasure to work with all of the law enforcement bodies throughout the district. I have come to know at first hand, through four years of practical experience, the duties and responsibilities of the office of district attorney.

"Mr. Hazlewood has announced his retirement from office at the expiration of this present term, and I am a candidate for the office. I seek advancement to the office of district attorney upon the record I have made as an assistant and upon my promise to cooperate with all law enforcement bodies throughout the district in a vigorous, fair and impartial enforcement of the law. If elected district attorney, I will devote my entire time to the duties of the office."

"It will be my policy, if elected, to conduct the office in an efficient, business-like manner with due regard to elimination of needless expense in operating this office, and in presenting matters to our grand juries."

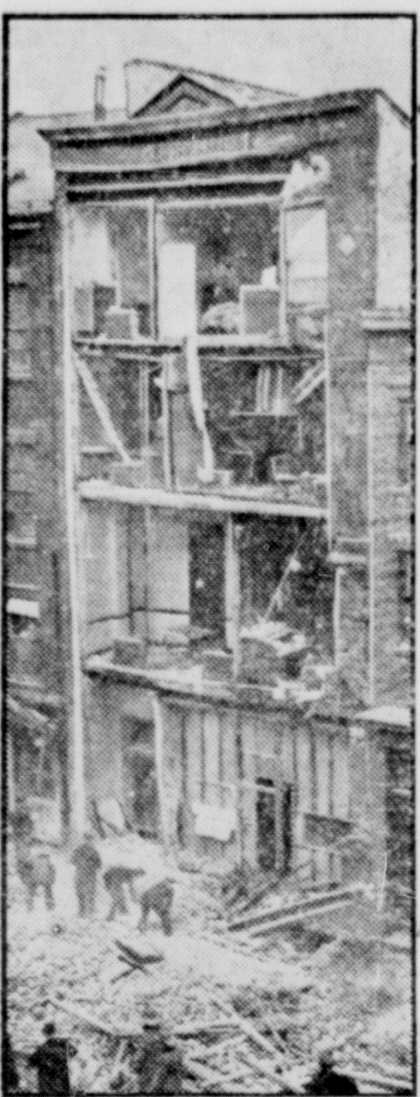

"I appreciate the spirit of co-operation that the district attorney's office has received from the people during the time I have been connected with this office, and it is my hope to see as many of the voters of the district as possible and personally thank them for their past confidence and co-operation and to solicit their support at the coming primary in July."

public to-day. At this time, suffice to say, our most vital problems are those of governmental economy, taxation and the conservation of our natural resources.

"Expenditures of our State government must be decreased, and until a substantial reduction, ranging from the very top to the bottom, is had, there will be little or no relief afforded. Taxation is absorbing a large portion of our incomes, yet the revenue produced is still insufficient to meet the expenditures. No government can successfully operate where it spends more than it earns. Useless bureaus and overlapping agencies burden us with their inactivity at a staggering and ever increasing cost.

Political patronage has increased the public payroll to the extent of millions of dollars annually. A holiday must be declared in politics, and we must settle down to a well defined course of thrift and economy. More than ever, our economic salvation rests upon our ability to lay aside trivial differences, and personal wants, and to settle down to fundamentals applying just every day common sense to the administration of our affairs.

"The problem of taxation is a subject of such unlimited dimensions that a brief and hasty conclusion on any phase thereof will often, and more than likely prove impractical. Now, as ever, the views maintained are so varied and divergent that a proponent of any one measure inevitably finds himself entangled in a mesh of a thousand conflicting interests, each of which seeks to shift the burden to the other. We must accept the realities of this issue and meet the problem fairly and squarely. No increase in taxation is thinkable at this time.

"No new levies should be advanced save those made mandatory by recent constitution amendment and legislative enactment providing for the payment of the old age pension. Adequate and immediate provision should be made for the payment of the old age pension. The actual budgetary needs of the State government must be met. But all other expenses incident to government not fundamentally imperative must be eliminated with dispatch.

"Nor should one's attitude in this particular suffer change until such a time as, to the extent of our homes and the necessities of life, the ad valorem tax be totally abolished. With this accomplished, let us make an exhaustive and thorough study of the multiple problems presented in the redistribution and equalization of taxation to the end that a measure of justice and equity may be accorded to all.

"Of our natural resources, the gas problem most vitally affects this area. I am for the unqualified, positive and absolute conservation of this great natural resource. Four years have passed since our first gas conservation law was enacted, yet, since this time, the amount of gas wasted represents enough to supply all of the present domestic consumers of Texas for a period of fifty years.

"It is idle talk to say the sovereign people of Texas cannot remedy such a deplorable situation. This vast natural resource must be conserved, gas wastage must end, and it will when knowledge of the real facts are brought to the attention of our people. It's high time that the public, and not the conflicting interests, be represented in this matter.

"To the accomplishment of the above and my program in full, I will extend my efforts. I intend to make no false promises, present no pet policies, or becloud or straddle any of the issues. I will strive to simply state the facts, meet the problems and decide the questions to the end that the common will of the people will prevail. I take it that all prospective legislation, without regard to stimulus or objective, should be determined and controlled in the light of unquestioned progress and the common economy of our people. Any proposed legislation, however valid it may be, that does not conserve and defend the inherent rights of freemen does not deserve, nor will it receive, my consideration.

"I shall strive honestly and industriously to interpret the will of the people, defending it at all times against the hazards and conditions of the day."

W. T. Grapplers Win Over Cadets In Tournament

For the second straight year the wrestlers of Coach Herschel Jennings swept to an impressive triumph in the N. M. M. I. annual tournament by piling up 25 points at Roswell, N. M., Saturday.

Crashing through the preliminaries by making a smooth sweep, the Buffaloes were the immediate favorites to repeat as winners placing seven men in the final round. They triumphed in all but two of their bouts—losing a match to Texas Tech and one to the Institute, both by time decisions.

Calloway, 125 lb. W. T. matman, set a fast pace for the rest to shoot at when he soundly thrashed Hudson of New Mexico A. & M. by a fall in 6:06. In the 135 lb. division Cadet Murry of the Institute demonstrated his superiority by winning with a 9:47 time advantage over Gordon of W. T.

Watkins of Texas Tech and Floyd Murry of W. T. exhibited the keenest match of the wrestling division. They savagely grappled for the full session, and it took two two-minute periods to decide the issue in Watkins' favor by an advantage of four seconds.

Jack Jennings, 158 lb. W. T. grappler, barely ousted Alexander of the Institute in another hotly contested match. Jennings applied a half-Nelson as the time-keeper prepared to sound the gong for the allotted ten minutes. Monroe Horton, W. T., found a comparatively easy time in pinning Klett
